

Consultation on the 2016 UNDP Human Development Report
13 June 2016, 9:00-13:30
OECD Headquarters, room CC4

Agenda

- 09.00 - 9.30 Coffee; Welcome remarks
- Mario Pezzini, Director, OECD Development Centre
 - Selim Jahan, Director, Human Development Report Office
- 09.30 - 10.00 Introduction – Evolution in development thinking and relevance of the 2016 report theme: Human Development – the way ahead:
Overview: Selim Jahan, Director, Human Development Report Office
Discussion introduced and moderated by Mario Pezzini, Director, OECD Development Centre
- 10.00 - 11.00 Conceptual aspects of human development: capturing the complexity of human development interrelations
Overview: Selim Jahan, Director, Human Development Report Office
Discussion introduced and moderated by Johannes Jütting, PARIS21 Secretariat Manager, OECD
- 11.00 - 12.00 Measuring human development progress: Indicators and their evolution.
Overview: Selim Jahan, Director, Human Development Report Office
Discussion introduced and moderated by Martine Durand, Chief Statistician and Director of Statistics, OECD
- 12.00 -12.15 Coffee break
- 12.15 - 13.15 Multidimensional policies – Towards a better integration of human security, sustainability, social cohesion and equality issues.
Overview: Maria Luisa Silva, Director, UNDP Office in Geneva
Discussion introduced and moderated by Jan Rielaender, Head of the Multidimensional Country Reviews Unit, OECD Development Centre
- 13.15 - 13.30 Wrap-up by Selim Jahan, Director, Human Development Report Office

Format:

UNDP representatives will introduce each session followed by a moderated discussion.

Formal presentations and written statements are discouraged. There will be no 'official' report - the intention is for ideas raised in the discussions to contribute to the process of elaborating the Human Development Report 2016.

Invited participants

Senior representatives from OECD, think tanks, research centres, UN agencies and international organisations, and experts from academia and civil society organization, mainly in France.

Expected outcomes:

- A. Seek input from participants on conceptual aspects of human development, particularly dimensions that have been given little attention in the past.
- B. Consider how the measurement of human development can remain relevant including on the quality of human development in addition to its quantity. Give attention to innovating in the sourcing and presentation of data –such as indices, indicators and dashboards.
- C. Identify policies and policy challenges for advancing human development and human security at local, regional and global levels in a world of uncertainty and rapid change.

Logistical details:

- RSVP: Natalie.rhodes@oecd.org and Jennifer.poole@undp.org

Sponsorship:

The organisers will not be able to cover the travel and accommodation costs of the participants.

Venue:

OECD Headquarters

2, rue André Pascal- 75016, Paris, France

<http://www.oecd.org/site/conferencecentre/>